

CDC'S NATIONAL CENTER FOR IMMUNIZATION AND RESPIRATORY DISEASES

2017 Childhood Immunization Champion Award Program

The National Center for Immunization and Respiratory Diseases (NCIRD) is part of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). NCIRD's mission is the prevention of disease, disability, and death, through immunization and by control of respiratory and related diseases.

The year 2017 will mark the sixth annual presentation of the CDC Childhood Immunization Champion Award. The CDC and the CDC Foundation will honor up to one Champion from each of the 50 U.S. states, 8 U.S. Territories and Freely Associated States, and the District of Columbia.

Award Criteria

The Champion Award is intended to recognize individuals who are working at the local level. It honors those who are doing an exemplary job or going above and beyond to promote or foster childhood immunizations among children 0-2 years old in their communities. When nominating and selecting their Champion, state and territorial immunization programs should base their nominations on meeting one or more of the following criteria:

Leadership: The candidate is considered an authority on immunization in his or her community, medical system, or individual practice. Activities may include acting as a spokesperson, trainer, mentor, or educator.

Collaboration: The candidate has worked to build support for and increase immunization rates in infants and young children. Activities may include establishing or strengthening partnerships, coalitions, committees, working groups, or other.

Innovation: The candidate has used creative or innovative strategies to promote immunization or address challenges to immunization in his or her practice, community, state, or region. Activities may include both new strategies and adapting existing strategies in new ways, such as for reaching under-immunized populations.

Advocacy: The candidate is active in advancing policies and best practices to support immunization in infants and young children in their community, state, or region. The candidate cannot be involved in advocacy activities that are related to funding for immunizations.

Champions may include coalition members, parents, health care professionals (e.g., physicians, nurses, physicians' assistants, nurse practitioners, medical assistants, etc.), and other immunization leaders who meet the award criteria.

Immunization program managers, county, state and federal government employees paid by state or federal immunization funding, individuals who have been affiliated with and/or employed by pharmaceutical companies, and those who have already received the award are not eligible to apply (see a complete eligibility checklist on page 3).

Process

State and territorial immunization program managers will coordinate the nomination and review process.

Nominations will be accepted from all 50 U.S. states, 8 U.S. Territories and Freely Associated States, and the District of Columbia. Nomination forms should be submitted to the immunization programs of the state or territory in which the nominee resides. The suggested deadline is February 3, 2017. However, nominators should contact their immunization program to find out if they have a different deadline. Self-nominations are welcome.

The nomination form requires a photograph, resume, and a completed nomination narrative form found on page 4. These items will be used for promotion of the selected Champions. Included in the packet is a HHS consent waiver that must be printed, initialed, signed, and either emailed or mailed with the nomination packet. Additional optional supporting materials may also be submitted, including program materials, publications, news clippings, website screenshots, etc.

Immunization program managers will convene a review team to evaluate all nominees for their state or territory and recommend one individual to receive the award based on the criteria listed above. Each program manager will notify CDC of his or her recommendation by February 24, 2017. CDC will review and confirm the recommendations and issue the awards.

Award Presentation and Recognition<sup>1</sup>

- Awards will be announced April 22-~~1929~~, 2017 in conjunction with National Infant Immunization Week (NIIW).
- Each awardee will receive a CDC Childhood Immunization Champion Award certificate.
- Champions* and their accomplishments will be featured on the CDC's vaccine website and may be recognized by their state or territory program during NIIW.

<sup>1</sup> NOTE: CDC may not confirm recommendation if nominee does not meet award criteria and/or eligibility guidelines.

If you have questions or need more information, please contact your state or territorial immunization program. Contact information can be found beginning on page 7 of this application.

2017 Childhood Immunization Champion Award Program

2017 Nomination Form

Please send nominations to the immunization program of the state or territory in which the nominee resides. The suggested deadline is February 3, 2017. However, immunization programs may have selected unique deadlines. Please contact the immunization program to confirm the deadline. Immunization program contact information can be found at the end of this application. Please also submit a photo, resume, and the completed narrative and HHS consent waiver forms. The photo, responses to the narrative questions, and resume may be used for promotional purposes if the nominee is selected as a Champion.
